

COMMUNIQUE (25 January 2011)

THE EMBASSY OF FRANCE IS SELLING ITS SATHORN SITE AND REGROUPING SERVICES AT BANGRAK

The Embassy of France in Bangkok is selling its premises on Sathorn Tai Road, so as to regroup all its services in a new building to be erected on the present Embassy site of Bangrak, where consular services are already located.

This project which aims at achieving greater efficiency and cost-effectiveness shall enable the Embassy to offer visitors more functional and modern premises.

The Alliance Française will no longer be located within the Embassy, and is to move to a new site which will enable it to fully continue its role of promoting French language and culture in Bangkok.

The Embassy shall keep you informed as to the development of this far reaching endeavor which will be spread over several years.
